

The Community Foundation for Southern Arizona was created to help connect donors to the causes they care about by serving as a vital link between philanthropy and the community's needs. Our work touches every aspect of daily life, including animal welfare, the arts, education, health and human services, economic development and the environment.

Together, We Are Community

"People who work together will win, whether it be against complex football defenses or the problems of modern society"
Vince Lombardi

Throughout 2012-2013, our greatest asset—our donors—contributed more than $6 million to benefit organizations in Southern Arizona and beyond. On behalf of the Board of Trustees and the staff of the Community Foundation for Southern Arizona (CFSA), we thank and acknowledge you for the difference you make every day through your generosity.

The greatest responsibility of the Community Foundation is to connect donors like you to causes you care about, from literacy, to end-of-life support services, to foster care and much more. In 2012-2013, we began to develop more cross sector collaborations to ensure our donors' dollars are getting the highest return on investment. We also completed a needs analysis of the community that concluded we must plan our path together.

Multiple opportunities exist for our region to move forward:

- We must take better care of our children. Forty percent of children in Arizona live in single parent homes. In Pima County, the child poverty rate is over 20%, and in Santa Cruz County the rate has topped 40%. Poverty affects the entire community and no one organization or sector can address all the demands. Our future competitiveness will be determined by the way we develop cross sector collaboration to combat poverty.

- We must take care of our elderly. In 20 years, 40% of Pima County's population will be over 50 years old. Our aging population is and will become more of an economic and civic driver in our region and we must engage them in the development of our shared future.

- We must celebrate the arts and promote our diverse population. One third of the population speaks a language other than English at home. Our region is renowned for its rich cultural diversity. we need to celebrate uniqueness, partner with and promote our multilingual organizations and population to help drive our economic development.

Collaboration not only leverages scarce financial resources in our community, it sparks our diverse intellectual potential to address our common challenges. Please learn more about how we have had measurable impact by visiting our website at cfsaz.org.

We applaud organizations that are fostering community inclusion and collaboration. We challenge our community to adopt this single unifying vision for our future. It is not only our best path forward, it is at the heart of what makes our community a special place to work, live and raise a family.

Together, as a community, we can continue inspiring others to make a difference, now and forever.

We are community

Changing lives by following our passions. Since 1980, hundreds of individuals, families and businesses have established funds at the Community Foundation, creating a group of funds that have granted more than $134 million since 1981. Like Southern Arizona itself, our funds are diverse, created by people of all ages, backgrounds and interests. It's the collective vision of people like you that makes our region a better place for all.

are inspiring others

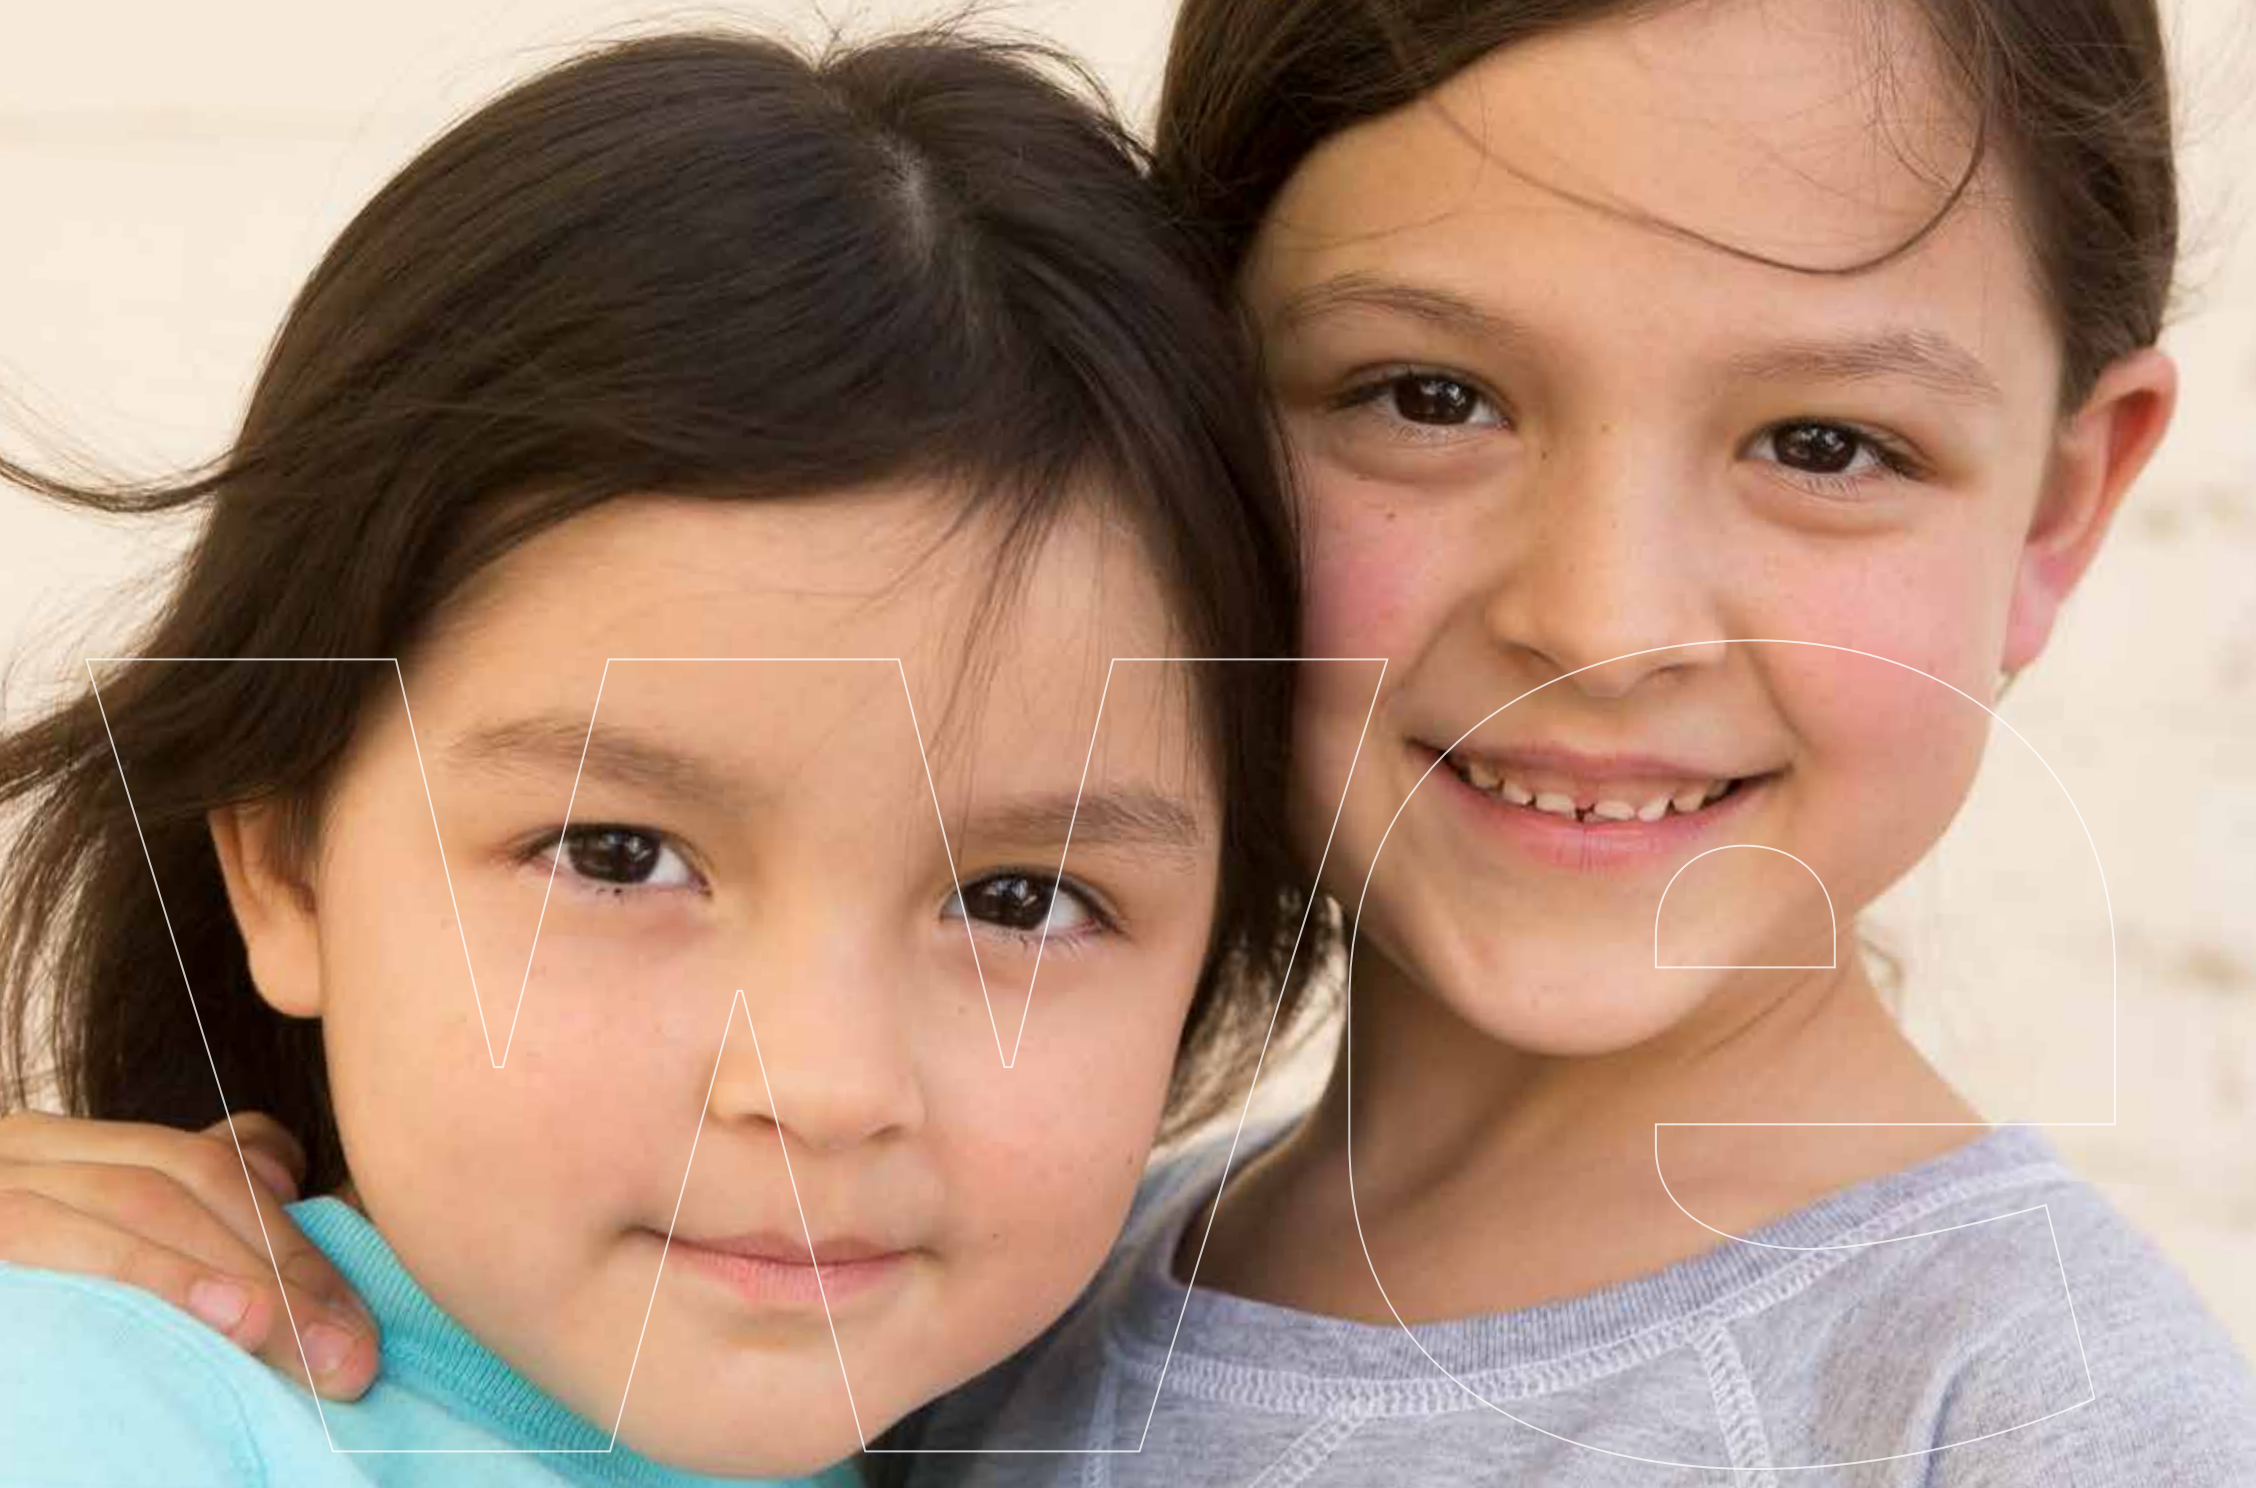

Thanks to CFSA donors, Pima County was selected as the pilot site for FosterEd, a program that will dramatically improve the educational outcomes for children in foster care.

The community asked CFSA to lead an effort to reduce the number of homeless pets, resulting in the Pima Alliance for Animal Welfare (PAAW).

Unrestricted gifts continue to support the Southern Arizona Indicators project, a business, nonprofit and academic partnership that drives collaborative civic action through regional prosperity benchmarks.

Accomplishing more by working together.

The Community Foundation is committed to helping donors make a difference. One way we do that is by building the capacity of the nonprofit sector in Southern Arizona so our donors' grants are increasingly effective. During 2012-13, with the Community Foundation's unrestricted funds, we invested in three community collaborations. By making a multi-year commitment, the Ajo Regional Food Partnership, ELDER Alliance, and the South Tucson Revitalization Partnership were able to address systemic issues through collaboration.

are making a difference

The Ajo Regional Food Partnership received funding from CFSA to help transform Ajo from a food desert to a desert oasis by engaging the entire community.

With CFSA funding, the South Tucson Revitalization Partnership began an integrated development process that engaged diverse community participation.

The ELDER Alliance used CFSA dollars to generate connections that are empowering Tucson's older adults to create an ideal community in which to live and grow old gracefully.

Looking forward by giving back. The heart of the Community Foundation is comprised of individuals with unique interests, ideas and passions to make our region a better place. Because of charitably-minded people like you, we will continue to inspire and support donors making a difference, now and for generations to come.

and forever

The Igor Gorin Memorial Award was established in 1987 by Mary Gorin as a way to honor the memory of her husband, Igor Gorin, a world-renowned opera singer.

Alberta Flannery and Neddie Blaine started the Pauline Miguel Scholarship Fund to award scholarships to Southern Arizona high school graduates who need them the most.

Doug Noffsinger and Roger Funk created the LGBT&S Alliance Fund - Funk/Noffsinger Endowment to support lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender community needs.

How to Become a Donor

There are a variety of ways you can support philanthropy in Southern Arizona:

Contribute to the Civic Leadership Campaign

Gifts to the Civic Leadership Campaign allow the Community Foundation to strengthen services for donors and nonprofit organizations in our community and to undertake leadership initiatives that improve the quality of life in Southern Arizona now and for generations to come.

Establish a Fund

You can establish a fund today with a gift of cash, securities, or real property.

Establish a Support Organization

An alternative to a private foundation, a support organization is a separate nonprofit corporation operating under CFSA's charitable umbrella. Through its own board, on which you may choose to serve, a support organization determines its own investment strategy and grant priorities.

Join the Legacy Society

Individuals with far-sighted generosity can make a commitment to the future of our community by naming the Community Foundation for Southern Arizona in their wills, qualified retirement plans, life insurance policies, trusts or other instruments.

Please contact a member of the Community Foundation staff at (520)770-0800 for more information on becoming a donor.

CFSA vs. Private Foundations

When they've made the decision to give, many philanthropists consider establishing a private foundation in their family or business name. Upon further research, they often realize that a fund through CFSA, like a private foundation, can offer:

- Philanthropic impact
- Community recognition
- A number of ways for family members to be involved

With a CFSA fund:

- You can make immediate charitable gifts in the year that best suits tax planning needs and recommend grants from the fund to particular charities over time
- Your contributions are fully tax-deductible in accordance with the law and applicable rules and regulations
- You can minimize capital gains taxes with a gift to CFSA of appreciated assets, such as stock, while realizing the maximum tax-deductibility of your donation
- You are saved from many of the onerous rules and regulations on grantmaking and reporting that accompany giving through a private foundation.

Because CFSA is a public charity described in the 501(c)3 section of the IRS code, we also can offer many advantages not available to private foundations.

Message to Professional Advisors

To maximize benefits for clients, CFSA recommends that professional advisors contact us early in the process as they plan for major business, personal or financial decisions. CFSA can:

- Match personal charitable interests with tax planning needs
- Create and implement charitable plans that are integrated into major business, personal and financial decisions
- Provide information on community needs—and the local agencies and programs that make a difference
- Deliver grantmaking expertise and a range of administrative services
- Provide expertise to families on generational giving

CFSA can help professional advisors and their clients assess the financial implications of different philanthropic options, which may influence the way a charitable plan is created.

Message to Grant/Scholarship Seekers

Applications and guidelines for competitive grants and scholarships are posted on our website, www.cfsaz.org, as they become available. You may also contact the Community Foundation at (520)770-0800 for more information about opportunities, qualifications and deadlines.

In memory, Anna Jolivet, a civic leader.

Throughout her life, Dr. Anna Jolivet was active in the community. She was an educator, an advocate and a civic pioneer who overcame obstacles to build pathways of understanding and collaboration. As chair of the Community Foundation's Board of Trustees from 1996-98, she made innumerable contributions, and more recently, founded the African American Initiative to help direct dollars and foster collaboration to benefit the African American and greater Tucson community. Her legacy as a leader will live on and inspire others.

Our Board of Trustees and staff are honored to dedicate this publication to Anna.

Donors to the Civic Leadership Campaign

In our role as convener, facilitator, collaborator and educator, our leadership activities address important issues as they arise and provide an enormous return on investment. Our fees do not support this essential civic leadership work. The annual gifts made by these donors help ensure that CFSA can continue to be responsive and participate in creating regional solutions.
