Community Foundation for Southern Arizona

In Challenging Times, Give Local

Jenny Flynn
President & CEO
Community Foundation
for Southern Arizona

It has been a consequential year for Southern Arizona's nonprofits.

Organizations across our region are navigating funding cuts and policy changes at the same time that many are seeing greater demand for the services they provide. In our Southern Arizona Nonprofit Funding Assessment, more than 40% of responding organizations reported being affected by federal funding reductions.

This number deserves our attention, but it is not the whole story. Every day, I see nonprofit leaders, volunteers, donors, and neighbors responding to uncertainty by doing what Southern Arizona does best: showing up for one another. In challenging times, our community shines.

And one of the most meaningful ways each of us can make a difference is by investing locally.

In this Giving Guide, the Community Foundation for Southern Arizona (CFSA) is proud to share the nonprofits funded through our most recent competitive grant rounds. Their work spans our region and touches nearly every part of community life — from food security, healthcare, and education to the arts, environmental sustainability, local journalism, and opportunities for our children and families.

What makes this list especially meaningful is how it was created.

CFSA invites community members to help review applications and make funding recommendations for our competitive grant programs. These volunteers bring their experiences, perspectives, and knowledge of Southern Arizona to the table. In that sense, the organizations you see here represent more than CFSA's grants. They reflect community voice about where resources can make a difference right now.

And through our CORE Grants, donors have a unique opportunity to amplify that community voice. Our Donor Collaborator program invites donors to review the CORE finalists identified through our community-led process and add their own contributions to organizations that inspire them. Those additional dollars expand the funding reaching our nonprofits and magnify the impact of the community's recommendations. It is a model for meaningful local giving – and one that we are especially proud of. To learn more about becoming a Donor Collaborator, contact philanthropy@cfsaz.org.

But this list is not meant to tell you where you must give. Quite the opposite.

Southern Arizona is home to an extraordinary nonprofit community, and there are countless organizations doing work worthy of your support. Find the cause that sparks your interest and aligns with your values. Give to the organization you already love. Discover one you didn't know about before.

Give $25. Give $250. Volunteer. Tell a friend. And when you can, consider making your financial gifts unrestricted, giving nonprofits the flexibility to put resources where they are needed most.

We are not powerless in challenging times. Every one of us can help shape the community we want to live in.

So, find what inspires you, connect with a local cause, and take action today.

In Community,
Jenny Flynn

Community Foundation for Southern Arizona

Summary of Services and Initiatives

Since 1980, the Community Foundation for Southern Arizona (CFSA) has connected donors, nonprofits, and community partners to create a more vibrant and equitable Southern Arizona. By serving as a vital link between philanthropy and the community's evolving needs, CFSA provides funding, training, and collaborative opportunities that drive meaningful change. CFSA empowers individuals, families, and businesses to make a lasting impact through philanthropy, nonprofit capacity-building, and community convenings.

Our Services

CFSA works directly with individuals, families and businesses to inspire and enact long-term solutions for our communities' most pressing problems through philanthropy.

Individuals and Families: CFSA provides personalized service to individuals and families to help you identify and actualize your philanthropic goals, whether it's giving now or later through an estate plan.

Nonprofit Organizations: Supported through unrestricted grantmaking, targeted education, peer roundtables, and opportunities to convene at the Community Foundation Campus, local nonprofits can access many different resources.

Southern Arizona Businesses: CFSA offers expertise and administrative support to all types of businesses to efficiently contribute to a thriving Southern Arizona.

Private Foundations: Established family and private foundations can work with CFSA in many ways to amplify and deepen their regional grantmaking.

Professional Advisors: CFSA partners with professional advisors— attorneys, financial planners, CPAs, trust officers, investment advisors, and insurance agents — to help establish giving options that maximize their clients' tax benefits and ensure their philanthropic intent is honored.

Our Community Work

You can join CFSA by attending an event on our Campus, volunteering as a community grant reviewer or on an advisory board, and by donating to our community-based grant funds. Funds such as the African American Legacy Fund, the Asian Pacific Islander Desi American Fund, the Center for Healthy Nonprofits, the CORE Grants Program, the Lesbian Gay Bisexual Transgender Queer (LGBTQ+) Alliance Fund, the Local News Initiative of Southern Arizona, the Nonprofit Solar Project, and more, offer grant support to Southern Arizona nonprofits.

Gifting in Real Time — How to Seize the Opportunity

Elizabeth Noble Rollings Friman

By Elizabeth Noble Rollings Friman, Attorney and Principal of Fleming & Curti, PLC

As an estate planning attorney, I work with individuals and families on legacy planning. How will the terms of a will or trust, or details on a beneficiary designation form actually work? How will a client's donor-advised fund ultimately be distributed? In these conversations — focused on distribution of assets after someone dies — it can be easy to overlook the obvious: gifting during life.

A desire to make a charitable gift is a common goal for many people and easy to facilitate with the right planning. Sometimes through these conversations, I learn that clients need support and ideas about how to begin a practice of making lifetime gifts. Whether it is a decision about how much to give, or how to make a gift of stock or transfer money from an IRA, making gifts in real time has the immediate effect of making an impact.

As we set our sights on 2027, there is still plenty of time to make gifts before the end of 2026. While you consider making gifts now to the organizations that you love, it is an opportunity to reconnect with your financial advisor before the holidays and your accountant before tax season. If you want to know how you can use your assets now to make a charitable gift, call an estate planning attorney. My number one recommendation is: seize the opportunity to give!

Smart Ways to Maximize Your Gift

Gift Appreciated Stock:
Transferring stocks that have grown in value directly to a charity helps you avoid paying capital gains tax while claiming the full market value deduction.

Use a Donor-Advised Fund (DAF):
Contributing a larger lump sum gift to a DAF lets you secure an immediate tax deduction now while distributing the money to specific charities over time.

IRA Qualified Charitable Distributions (QCDs):
If you are age 70½ or older, you can give directly from your traditional IRA to a qualified charity without counting it as taxable income.

Important Deadlines and Rules

Cash, check, and credit card gifts must be postmarked or processed by midnight on December 31 to count for the current tax year.

Donating stocks, property, or mutual funds takes extra time. Start these transfers EARLY so they clear before the end of the year.

Confirm a 501(c)(3) organization's tax-exempt status so that if you itemize your deductions, the gifts that you make will qualify as a deductions on your income tax return.

And remember to consider the new above-the-line charitable deduction available for non-itemizers beginning in the 2026 tax year.

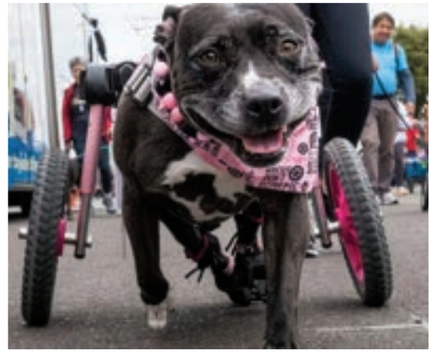

There are so many ways to make an impact in our local community, both during and after your lifetime. Giving during your lifetime allows you to support the causes that you care about today and provides an opportunity to witness the difference that your generosity makes. Start the conversation and make this the year you give with greater intention.

MISSION

We enliven Tucson, fostering community growth and connections by shaping exceptional, live arts experiences in a celebrated setting.

This year, the Fox Tucson Theatre is celebrating 96 years in the community, as a live performing arts destination. The lovingly restored historic theatre is a Tucson treasure and a cornerstone of our downtown. With more than 150 events a year, including a mainstage season stretching across 10 unique series, the Fox has something for everyone. The Kids In The Theatre (KITT) program inspires creativity and curiosity in young minds, welcoming students and families all year long. In the 2025-2026 season, the KITT program served 20,867 youth & adults, introducing multiple new programs, including free Storytime, sensory friendly programs, and a number of summer day camps. All of that energy is fueling continued growth — in audience attendance, patron enthusiasm, revenue, and the strength of operations. The Fox continues to break records, solidifying its place as a made in Tucson arts institution. This joy-filled life is cultivated and sustained by excellence — in the dedication of the staff, the vision of the board, the talent of the artists coming to the stage, and the generosity, passion, and commitment of countless supporters. In a rapidly changing city like Tucson, where national entertainment chains seek a foothold, the Fox is a homegrown treasure that gives back — culturally, economically, and emotionally. By investing in local performing arts institutions, you help ensure a strong, authentic, connected arts infrastructure that will thrive at the heart of community-life for generations to come.

MISSION

GAP Ministries, a 501c3 social services nonprofit serving Southern Arizona since 1999, stands in the gap to bring help to children, healing to families, and hope to our community.

Since 1999, GAP Ministries has helped children and families move from crisis toward stability and self-sufficiency, with a mission to break cycles of poverty and abuse in our community. Today, we serve Southern Arizona through three interconnected areas of impact:

Children: More than 175 foster children and teens are cared for annually through our family-model SPLASH group homes and foster homes, designed to keep sibling groups together while providing safe, stable and nurturing environments.

Family: We support families in crisis through supervised Parenting Time visits and practical tools that help parents build healthier homes and work toward reunification whenever possible.

Community: Our Community Warehouse redistributes more than $8.7 million in food and essential products annually, putting critical resources into the hands of families and nonprofit partners. GAP and Miracle Center's Career Plus workforce programs provide job training, placement assistance and ongoing support to help individuals secure sustainable employment. GAP's commercial kitchen prepares over 90,000 meals for low-income children, seniors, and families struggling with food insecurity annually.

Our programs work cooperatively to address both immediate needs as well as the underlying barriers that keep families trapped in cycles of poverty and abuse.

For over 27 years, the heart of GAP Ministries has been to care for the orphan and the widow, preserving the dignity of every child, individual, and family we serve.

Will you stand in the GAP with us?

HER STORY changed

BECAUSE SOMEONE BELIEVED IN HER

By 17, Maralyn had spent most of her life in foster care, moving between foster and group homes. Stability was something she rarely knew.

Then she came to GAP Ministries.

At GAP, Maralyn found more than a place to stay. She found people who believed in her and welcomed her like family. Through caring house parents, Bible studies, worship and everyday family experiences, she discovered what safety and consistency could feel like.

During her time at GAP, Maralyn was baptized and began a new journey of faith in Christ.

Her story wasn't easy after leaving GAP, but the seeds planted during those months continued to grow.

Today, 13 years later, Maralyn is married, raising three children and serving as a youth pastor alongside her husband, Dalen. Now, she pours into young people who need hope and someone willing to believe in them.

"Sometimes we don't get to see the fruit, but that does not mean there is no fruit. Just keep sowing."

MISSION

Hope. Shelter. Transformation.

Since 1953, Gospel Rescue Mission (GRM) has served men, women and families experiencing homelessness and hardship in Southern Arizona, providing not only immediate relief, but a pathway toward lasting transformation. In 2019, GRM partnered with the H.S. Lopez Family Foundation to establish the Center of Opportunity, a one-stop collaborative campus where more than 50 nonprofit and social service partners work together under one roof.

As managing partner, GRM coordinates intake and case management, connecting each guest with the individualized care they need to stabilize and move forward. That includes shelter, meals, clothing and hygiene to medical and mental health care, addiction recovery, workforce development, housing assistance and other critical services.

With 350 shelter beds and a comprehensive continuum of care, GRM has continued to evolve its model to address the complex barriers that often prevent people from seeking help or successfully transitioning out of homelessness. This has led to innovative outreach and programming that meets people where they are, builds trust and creates practical pathways into care.

This includes Operation Rescue, our community outreach program that brings critical resources directly to people living on the streets while creating intentional connections to shelter, recovery and supportive services. Through programs like these, GRM is able to reach individuals who may otherwise remain disconnected from traditional systems of care and help them take the first steps toward stability, independence and lasting transformation.

MISSION

Our founder once said, "A sick child is a sick family."

Since 1981, Ronald McDonald House Southern Arizona has been a place of respite for families when they travel to Tucson for their child's medical care. More than a place to sleep, the House offers parents, siblings, and caregivers the comfort of being close to one another.

"Staying here has been a big weight off my shoulders," said Julio Sr., whose son is receiving treatment for bone cancer at Banner — University Medical Center. On the days when Julio Jr. can take a break from the hospital, he and his dad pass the time by playing with building blocks, watching soccer games, and videochatting with his baby sister back at home.

More than 300 families call Ronald McDonald House their home each year. Some stay the night, others stay for months. No matter how long the journey, families find a supportive community that helps them focus on what matters most: their child's care.

Thanks to community support, every family can stay at Ronald McDonald House free of charge for as long as they need. Because when a child is sick, Family Stays, and Ronald McDonald House stays with them.

MISSION

We help women create a path forward by offering a safe, nurturing sanctuary where their needs are met with respect, dignity, and compassion.

For a woman experiencing homelessness, a warm meal, a hot shower, clean clothes, and a safe place to rest mean more than meeting basic needs. They offer comfort, dignity, and hope for a brighter tomorrow. At Sister José Women's Center, we provide a safe, nurturing sanctuary where women and their companion pets are welcomed with respect, dignity, and compassion. Through our low-barrier day center and overnight shelter, women find not only essential services but also a caring community and the support they need to create a path forward.

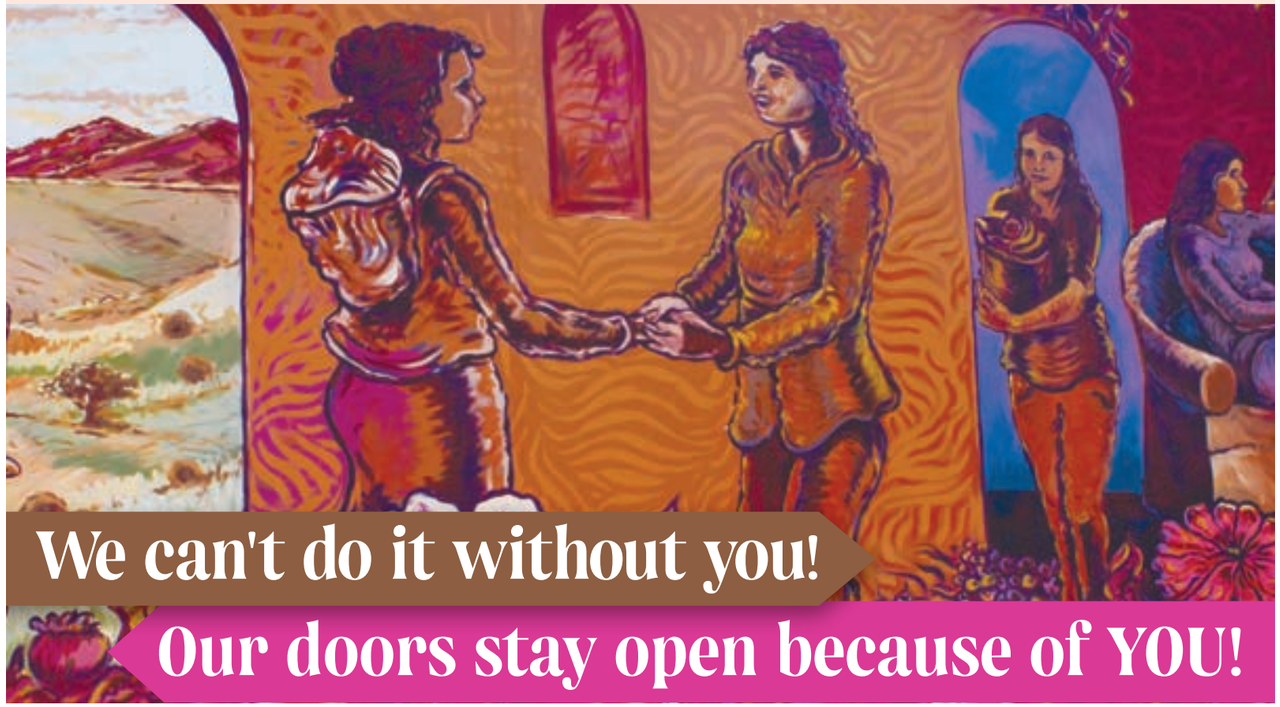

As the need for our services continues to grow, the generosity of our community makes this work possible. Together, we can ensure that every woman who walks through our doors finds safety, compassion, and the opportunity for a more stable future.

FINDING STRENGTH IN COMMUNITY, ONE WOMAN AT A TIME.

For women experiencing homelessness in Tucson, each day can bring uncertainty, isolation, and the struggle to meet even the most basic needs. But at Sister José Women's Center, they find something more than shelter. They find safety, compassion, connection, and a community that cares.

Since 2009, Sister José has been a welcoming, low-barrier sanctuary where women are met with dignity, respect, and compassion. Here, every woman is valued, her story matters, and she is supported as she creates her own path toward stability and independence.

We can't do it without you!

Our doors stay open because of YOU!

MISSION

Building a thriving community by uniting people, ideas, and resources.

For more than a century, United Way of Tucson and Southern Arizona has brought people, ideas and resources together to build a stronger community. Founded in 1922 through a partnership between local businesses and nonprofit organizations, United Way has grown alongside Southern Arizona, supporting hundreds of thousands of children, families and older adults each year.

United Way works to make Southern Arizona a place where everyone has the opportunity to thrive. From helping children succeed in school and families build financial stability to expanding access to housing and supporting healthier communities, United Way addresses challenges at every stage of life.

As a trusted local leader with deep expertise in community needs, United Way works alongside city, county and community partners to develop effective solutions to our region's most pressing issues.

United Way delivers direct services while uniting nonprofits, businesses, volunteers and community leaders to tackle challenges no organization can solve alone. Together, these efforts meet immediate needs while creating lasting opportunities.

Investing in United Way is one of the most impactful ways to give locally. Through grant funding, an extensive partner network and volunteer power, every dollar invested generates $5 in community impact.

Every gift, volunteer hour and partnership creates more possibilities for the people and places that make Southern Arizona home.

Because the community we want starts with us.

Community Food Bank of Southern Arizona

Fifty years ago, a small warehouse on 4th Avenue opened its doors with one employee, one volunteer, and one donated delivery truck. Its mission was simple: to fight hunger in Southern Arizona. Today, the Community Food Bank of Southern Arizona is a regional lifeline, serving communities across five counties and more than 23,000 square miles. Our Food Bank operates four resource centers and a distribution center, up to 18 monthly mobile distribution sites in rural communities, and partners with more than 300 local agencies to help ensure our neighbors have access to the food they need. The Community Food Bank responds to the root causes of hunger while working to restore dignity, health, opportunity, and hope to people living in poverty. Through it all, our mission remains the same: ensuring our communities are healthy and hunger-free today, tomorrow, and always.

Girl Scouts of Southern Arizona

girl scouts of southern arizona

For more than 90 years, Girl Scouts of Southern Arizona has believed in the power of girls to change the world—and pledged to help others along the way. Girl Scouts don't wait for the future to happen; they discover their strengths, find their voices, embrace challenges, and build the world they want to live in. Girl Scouting is a place where every girl belongs. No matter her background, race, ethnicity, income, ability, religion, or beliefs, she is welcomed, valued, and encouraged to be unapologetically herself. With caring adult volunteers and mentors in our community, and millions of Girl Scout alums around the world cheering them on, girls discover that their possibilities are bigger than they may imagine. They gain confidence, courage, resilience, and the belief that their voices matter. Through meaningful programs and experiences, Girl Scouts discover who they are and who they can become. They learn to lead, serve, lift others up, and believe they have the power to make a difference. When girls thrive, communities thrive, and the world becomes stronger.

Provides services and programs to nearly 3,000 Girl Scouts ages 5–17 and more than 1,500 adult volunteers.

Girl Scouts embrace four program pillars - STEM, Outdoors, Life Skills, and Entrepreneurship - in their pursuit to make the world a better place.

STEM

A brighter future for us all can be a reality, thanks to science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM). When girls participate in focused STEM programs, they are more interested in STEM and careers in tech—including app development, robotics, coding, and cybersecurity.

Outdoors

Studies show that girls today are not spending nearly enough time outdoors. But as a Girl Scout, she'll have plenty of opportunities to create her own outdoor adventures and develop a lifelong appreciation for nature and the out-of-doors—whether with her troop, at camp, or with friends and family.

Life Skills

Girl Scouts gain the skills and inspiration to accept challenges and overcome adversity through activities like exercising and staying healthy, developing strong relationships with family and peers, advocating on behalf of others, protecting our environment, and exploring careers that can truly change the world for the better.

Entrepreneurship

Research shows that girls are actively interested in becoming entrepreneurs, developing financially stable futures, and using their skills to make a big impact on the world. While entrepreneurship may not be right for every girl, every Girl Scout will benefit, and maybe even discover a future career path, by learning to think like an entrepreneur.

Women's Foundation for Southern Arizona

Under the leadership of CEO Katia Jones, the Women's Foundation for the State of Arizona (WFSA) is one of the only women's foundations in the nation that both funds community organizations and lobbies directly for the people they serve. Guided by a vision of an Arizona where women and girls of all identities thrive, WFSA pairs research, advocacy, innovation, and investment to create lasting social, political, and economic change.This year, WFSA launched its newest pilot program, the Women's Legal and Self-Empowerment Certificate (WLSEC), which gives Arizona women the legal knowledge and self-advocacy skills to navigate the systems that shape their lives. The first cohort is underway now, with two more on the way in the coming year. WFSA also awarded $650,000 to its FORGE (Fund for Racial and Gender Equity) 2026 grantees, and brought Arizonans together through Know Your Ballot and advocacy info-happy hours to get ready for the ballot box and the Capitol. Through it all, WFSA practices trust-based philanthropy: flexible funding, fewer hoops, and real relationships with the communities closest to the work.

We Research. We Advocate. We Innovate. We Invest.

Creating an Arizona where women and girls of all identities thrive.

WFSA supports grassroots movements, uplifts young leaders, influences public policy, and invests in actionable research to reimagine what place-based philanthropy looks like when it's rooted in trust, shared decision-making, and accountability to community.

- We fund nonprofits historically excluded from philanthropy.
- We write and fight for policies that impact women, children and families.
- We lead research that prioritizes lived experiences over outdated data models.
- We create and pilot programs then transition them to lasting partners such as our Unidas Youth Leadership program.
- We challenge broken systems - because true equity requires transformation.
- When you support WFSA you aren't just making a donation - you're funding a movement.
